Who do you say that I am?

Jesus' question to the disciples "who do you say that I am?" marks a critical turning point in the history of salvation. When Simon, son of Jonah, answers, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Jesus gives him a new identity: "Blessed are you, Simon son of Jonah. For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my heavenly Father. And so I say to you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church."

When we realize who Jesus really is -- God among us -- everything falls into place. We can learn about Jesus by studying scripture or listening to others speak of him. But Jesus is inviting us to get to know him personally, with our own hearts. Are we friends with Jesus? Have we told our children about him? If we aren't sure, let's take this opportunity to do so.
