We follow Jesus who said,

“As the Father has Sent me, So I send you.”

Inspired by the lives of Mary and the saints, we love one another and serve those in need. We build our community by hearing, living, and sharing the gospel message of compassion, justice and peace.

Receive, Lord, in tranquility and peace, the souls of your servants who have departed out of this present life to be with you. Give them the life that knows the good things that do not pass away, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Happy Grandparents Day!

Dear Lord,
I pray that you watch over my grandparents.
Please bless them with your love.
May you keep them safe and guard their path and protect them from above.
I pray that they will always know, and I can help them see, just how much I love them and what they mean to me.
Amen.

This Sunday's Gospel calls us to forgive each other "seventy-seven times." This doesn't mean we keep a tally of each other's offenses. Instead, God calls us to forgive each other as many times as it takes, just as he forgives us.

The marriage researcher John Gottman has proven that strong marriages and strong families depend upon the capacity to forgive. No matter how good the marriage or how loving the family, we will commit sins against the ones we love. Families that cannot forgive will struggle, while those that readily forgive will thrive.

Forgiveness is more than a skill that leads to emotional health. In forgiving, we become more like God and his son Jesus. Seen through the eyes of faith, forgiveness is a prerequisite for becoming who we are meant to be: children of God.
